A note from our specialists

We're three clinical haematologists and a hepatologist practising together at The Solace Clinic, Maroochydore, and we're looking for two medical oncologists to join our team and share our approach to patient care.

The day hospital is already set up to deliver anticancer therapy, including chemotherapy, immunotherapy and bispecifics, as well as blood product support. It has an experienced oncology and haematology nursing team and a compounding pharmacy with an onsite pharmacist. One of our haematologists is onsite every weekday, and we meet regularly as a clinical team.

Our experienced oncology admin team looks after the practice side, from referrals and billing to IT and referrer engagement, which leaves our time for patients and colleagues.

As our first medical oncologists, you'd help shape how oncology grows here, and with two positions, you won't be doing it alone. Whether you're established, newly qualified or relocating, we'd be glad to show you around.

The clinic and day hospital

The Solace Clinic is a brand new, specialty-designed haematology, hepatology and oncology clinic in Maroochydore's new CBD, on Level 7 with views east across the Coast.

- 15 chairs, 4 private beds
 A licensed, nurse-led day hospital.
- Clinical trials space
 Dedicated space onsite, with the chance to build a trials program.
- Rooms and day unit together
 Consulting rooms and the day hospital share one floor.
- Pharmacy onsite
 A compounding pharmacy with an onsite pharmacist.
- Chef and kitchen
 A commercial kitchen preparing meals for patients.
- Prompt treatment starts
 Set up with oncology in mind, so patients can start treatment without waiting for a chair.

A growing health community: radiology, UniSC Clinical Trials, GPs and allied health as neighbours in the same building, with plastic surgery rooms on the way.
